

Evan
5/2/14

Navigation proves to be very effective. User is able to navigate successfully and find all fields. Unsuccessful commands proved to be superfluous and had an available workaround to them anyway.

The user found difficulty distinguishing the gallery pictures in the table when told to find one of a specific count. The team will seek to remedy this issue by delineating the listen thumbnails better and/or even numbering them in a clear way.

It is concluded that the website is generally effective and understandable successfully achieving the functionality and focus desired.